May 7 - 11, 2001

Opening Events: Monday May 7

All opening events in the Chemistry Building, Central Campus (refreshments served)

9:00 - 10:30am, 1200 Chemistry Bldg.

Keynote: "What is Good Teaching?"

Bill McKeachie, Professor Emeritus of Psychology at the U-M, is an internationally known figure in college teaching and learning. He will present his perspective on what constitutes good teaching, what research says about good teaching and how good teaching principles constitute the foundation for successful teaching using technology.

10:30 - 1:00 pm, 1712 & 1720 Chemistry Bldg.

Faculty Showcase

Faculty representing the breadth of disciplines in the University will demonstrate specific technological innovations they are using for teaching and learning. This forum will allow you to speak with them and walk away with good ideas you may incorporate into your classes.
